Crisis of Christianity in Africa

It is one hundred seventy years since Christianity came into the Kenyan soil. In the meanwhile, it has achieved a remarkable numerical growth. 36percent of the Kenyan Christian population is Protestant; 25 percent is Roman Catholic. In a nutshell, more than 60 percent of the Kenyan population is Christian. It is said that Kenyan Christianity is old enough to manifest its maturity in terms of its history and its size of believers. Statistics aside, and with a thorough and more In-depth examination, it can be said that Christianity in Kenya does not strongly and positively impact the society.

Having this in consideration, Christianity becomes "powerless" as a tool of positive impact to the community. A sleeping lion cannot hunt; neither can a dead fish swim against flowing water. Dead fish is washed away with flowing water. Christians who do not have influence with regard to their faith are like dead fishes and sleeping lions. These breed of Christians are easily compromised with the wave of worldly lifestyle: worldly minds, and worldly values.

"the Christian mood is dominant in the Continent, but the spiritual depth is very shallow."

It has been said that, "African Christianity has a spirituality of one inch deep and one mile long." This is to mean that the Christian mood is dominant in the Continent, but the spiritual depth is very shallow. There is no deep commitment in their Christian belief. Faith without deep commitment is easily fallen by a small crisis, just like how a tree with shallow roots falls down quickly even by gentle wind. On the other hand, faith with deep and strong commitment can steadily stand the test of time.

African Christianity is challenged by many heretical teachings. Heresies have easily and quickly permeated into many churches which have not been well rooted by healthy Christian teachings, leading to the total downfall of these churches. Unfortunately, strong biblical teachings have been neglected among many African churches.

The African churches are deeply tainted by false teachings like the so-called "prosperity gospel" which preaches wealth and health and omits the truth of Christian suffering for the sake of the Gospel of Christ. Many Christians in Africa, when they are exposed to such heretical teachings, have been easily deceived to believe such a lie, because they are not well-equipped with the appropriate knowledge to discern it.

The crisis of Christianity in Africa is equated to a lack of sound theological training. A majority of pastors in Africa who shepherd the local churches are not theologically educated. Untrained preachers are not able to teach the Scriptures correctly just as untrained teachers are unable to teach students in proper way. Many African indigenous churches do not have their own training systems for their pastors.

The Bible is a book which has been written in different Historical backgrounds and cultural contexts. Therefore, to teach it correctly, the pastors who are dealing with the Bible are required to be equipped with the knowledge of handling it properly. They also deal with the spiritual life of believers. The spiritual lives of people cannot be dealt with lightly but rather very delicately. Therefore, pastors need appropriate training on how to correctly handle with it. The churches which neglect and/or negate such kinds of training cannot well equip their people to be strong soldiers in spiritual battle fields.

The Church of God, as the gathering community, exists to invoke the coming of His Kingdom when worshipping God. Believers, as dispersed, are holy priests mediating the world to God and the spiritual soldiers to build His Kingdom by winning the lost people more and more to the Lord. They are eschatological people living in the last days charged with the mandate to prepare the coming of the end time. In terms of lifestyle, They are called out to be living sacrifices in the world. The spiritual worship can be demonstrated in the best way as it is displayed in the form of stewardship in the world.

In conclusion, the crisis of Christianity in Africa is derived as a result of the poor levels of spirituality. For African Christianity to be longer in mileage and deeper in inches of spirituality, it entails teachers and pastors more committed to the biblical teaching and preaching; and many more people of God should commit to live out their lives as holy and living sacrifices for the Lord and thereby become faithful stewards of God in the world to impact the world for the Lord. Christians who live in these last days should keep in mind that they are called for His Kingdom as holy priests and brave soldiers. The Great Commission is achieved by people such as these.

Be Transformed to Transform the world

Our churches today are in need of revival. Ask yourself, am I a person just sitting in the pews on Sundays or am I a pillar in the church? many times I have heard members say am not worthy of being a servant; I don't know how to preach, I don't know enough hymns to be a deacon, I don't have time, my English is too poor, I am too young or too old. We always look to what we can offer and not what God can do with what we can offer. We need to realize that there is nothing we can give to be worthy of the calling in which we are called. It is God alone who could fulfill the calling in our hearts.

> "Rise up Oh church of God! You and me and take the gospel of Christ to all parts of the world".

We are all put into this earth for a short period of time; some longer than others but nevertheless an average of eighty years. We only have about 80 years. to live on this earth yet eternity is forever. Our society teaches us "to live for here and now' and to "enjoy your life". "you only live once", they say, but rarely we hear "living for the future". I ask myself what will I have to offer before I face Christ, will He embrace me and tell me " well done, good and faithful servant''. (Matt 25:23) or will I be rejected like the servant who buried his talents in the ground. Will I recognize my maker as my master for whom I have faithfully worked on earth?

Again we are asked to walk worthy of the calling with which we are called (Eph 4:4). God has great plans for us and His church; we are willing to be used by Him or would we rather be just the person sitting on the pew. "Let us all rise from our laziness with diligence seeking the heavenly reward."

We are the church and we are asked to rise up to be a bigger calling. I encourage all of us to rise up and live, breath and walk according to Gods calling regardless of our failures and circumstances.

Rev., Canon., Dr. James Mwaura, Provost

Our Academic Foundations

I have been serving in Bridgeworld College as an Academic Dean for one and half years now, going over the curriculums and teaching three different courses in New Testament. I found out that our school has been blessed a lot by God's intervention through our organized library system, the students' desires to learn, and academic developments.

In terms of the library system, it has been increasingly organized with qualified books being collected by donations from our supporters. However, our library is still wanting and needs many more books to support our students for sufficient researchable studies in the areas of theology and social sciences.

The ever growing number of students is a great blessing. We have students who have the passion to learn, who seriously and accurately wrestle with theological, social and general academic issues. I believe that this is a good sign to move forward.

As regards academic developments, we have been setting up our theological structure in a fitting comparison of architecture:

We laid our theological foundation on Exegetical Theology consisting of biblical theology, biblical history, biblical language, introductions and textual criticism. On this foundation we built two pillars – Systematic Theology and Historical theology.

Systematic theology is made up of Apologetics, Dogmatics, Ethics and Heresies while the Historic theology deals with Early, Medieval, Reformation and Modern church history.

On the top of the building, we put practical theology as a roof. Practical theology comprises of Preaching, Worship, Pastoral care, Confessions, Politics, Missions, Counseling, Small Groups, Discipleship and Spirituality.

Our goal of building this firm structure is to prepare our students to confront the growing challenges of other world views in our present world and take hold of the great expectation for Christ's second coming.

Introducing New Programs for Holistic Development

Mankind requires a holistic transformation. This can take place if Christians are able to influence the social, intellectual and the spiritual realm of individuals in the society through a constant declaration of relevant biblical truth. For the last twelve years, Bridgeworld College has been engaged on laying spiritual foundations for a holistic transformation.

This year we were privileged to have an opportunity to start Laying intellectual foundations for social development through

Introduction of technical programs.
Having trained pastors and church leaders for a considerable number of years, the college now extends its wing to the business world by training the entrepreneurs on skills of doing business in a professional manner. This course will be necessary for our changing business world. Thus the existing business men and women as well as he starters will do good to prepare the ground for a new invention in business world.
We also introduced therapeutic a program for students interested to heal the psychological disrupted world.
These two new programs came as the society demand continued to increase.
We therefore feel indebted to the society to give them what they deserve. In the effort of giving the best to the community we endeavored to strengthen our relationship with higher institutions. Now Great Lakes University of Kisumu could do their programs in our college as a center. Thus our counseling students will have the opportunity to further their studies for bachelor degree programs.
More so our wings are flying along with the Kenya counseling and psychological association. This relationship will allow the counseling graduates perform the professional task of healing the community as licensed members in the society.
We welcome you to apply and join our new programs of business management and counseling to fulfill your life dream of transforming the world for the Lord. Be the best you can by train with us at Bridgeworld College!

Staff's Visit to South Korea

Seoul is a land of Bridges. It actually has about 27 bridges crossing from one end to another. That signifies a large quantity of water which is useful for human development.
We learnt this during our trip to Seoul Korea last year. The trip was organized by the Bridgeworld College and the supporting team from Korea. A trip that took three weeks journey started in the second week of June to the first week of July. It was a time of learning and bonding with friends in a foreign land.

It took us over twenty hours to fly from Kenya to Seoul in Korea. To some of us who had not been to Seoul before, the trip was full of excitement and mixed feelings. We stopped over at Abudhabi with intention to exchange the flight. We waited for about two hours for the arrangement to be completed. After the waiting we had to take a flight for the next nine hours on air travel. We thank God for the safe landing in Seoul despite moments of turbulence in the air.

We received a warm and a happy welcome at the Incheoun airport in Seoul. Friends who had been organizing and waiting in prayers for us were excited to see the three of our staff members from Bridgeworld College. They treated us with nice cultural foods in traditional restaurant. In the restaurant we ate our foods with joy as we sat on the floor which was spotlessly clean and made of wooden material. No one was allowed to go into the restaurant with shoes. We were like Moses at the burning bush when he met God and had to remove the shoes for the place where he stood was holy.

S. Korea is far beyond Kenya in several ways. Interaction with the people of the land revealed that the economic status of Korea is quite a distance away in comparison to that of Kenya. Korea could feed 54 countries in Africa and still survive. It beats logic when we recall that several years ago Korea was among the poorest countries. Now Korea is among the richest countries in the world. In terms of structures Korea has physical, political and administrative structures that are beyond imagination. One has to visit Korea in order to get a glimpse of what we try to say. Our inquiry revealed that the government has taken initiative to bring the necessary structures into place.
There are wide roads and various infrastructures to lead anyone to wherever they want to go. Christian churches have not been left behind either. There are churches with over ten to twenty thousand people. There are small churches as well.

We questioned why the church in Korea is growing fast and strong. We received three reasons for this. First, the pastors preach the word from the bible. Almost all pastors have theological training of about bachelor degree level. Second, they eat together after preaching. The fellowship is not without meals. Many of the churches have restaurant where they meet for food after service. Third, they are honest on how they use the church money. They even post in the church website how the money was managed. The three reasons caught us by surprise. Initially some of us had perceived that churches in Korea grow fast because of prayer. Surprisingly the three reasons did not feature prayers anywhere. It was a shock!

We visited companies and factories that deal with making medical glass tubes and clothing. One thing we realized is that Christians that lead such companies have chapel services whether in the morning before work starts or during lunch hour before meal. We learnt that if Christians have the right knowledge with the right spirit they can make changes that will affect the nations and develop the lives of people.

A trip to Korea was a total new experience. One could say that if Christians are in power, with the right structures in place there will be guarantee of a transformed life. May the Lord bless our support team in Korea for such a great willingness to get involved in mission work to Kenya!

My Experience at Bridgeworld College

I first came to Bridge World College, formerly known as The African Center for The Great Commission (A.C.G.C.), in May, 2004. At that particular time I had enrolled as a Diploma in Pastoral Studies student. After my two years stint at the college, under training by renowned, experienced and professional lecturers of great experience, I graduated in April, 2006 during the 3rd Graduating ceremony.

I would do a lot of injustice if I do not mention the conducive learning environment that had been put in place by the leadership and the excellent spiritual nurture that took place during the Tuesday morning chapel services. My Christian life and ministry was impacted greatly especially with the cross cultural interactions with lecturers and missionaries from the USA, Kenya and from South Korea. The students, most of whom were pastors, also brought in a lot of insights about ministry in far flung and remote areas of our country, Kenya. At that particular time the college had students from only Kenya and Sudan.

> "Its mission of being a training centre for African ministers in order as to achieve the Great Commission Mandate".

I also had an opportunity to serve the students as the school president for one year that really put to test and upped my leadership abilities. After A.C.G.C., I enrolled for a BA in Theology at Faith Alive Bible College (F.A.B.C.), Canada and later for an M.A. in Leadership Studies at Nairobi International School of Theology (N.I.S.T.), presently known as International Leadership University (I.L.U.).

Presently I have come back as a lecturer to the same college that laid the grounds for me to pursue further education because of the hunger for knowledge that had been implanted in me. All along during my studies in all these institutions I served as a pastor at Green Pastures Tabernacle, Nairobi for a period of 10 years when I decided to take a break.

During this break, I decided to pursue another goal of my life, where I have always purposed to teach and transfer knowledge and experiences in ministry to another generation of ministers according to 2Timothy 2:2, " ". I then joined Bridgeworld College in 2013 where I enjoy teaching students who are very enthusiastic about learning and practicing that which they have learned. It gives me great joy to give back to an institution that set me up in the field of academia and practical ministry experiences.

The culture at Bridgeworld is amazing. The college, because of the programs offered, has attracted and impacted ministers and missionaries from several countries across the African continent now. There are students from Ethiopia, Eritrea, Sudan, Congo, Kenya and Egypt. Bridge World College has lived to its mission of being a training centre for African ministers in order as to achieve the Great Commission Mandate.

I look forward every week to come to class and teach while I get so much satisfaction when I see, not only the transfer of knowledge, but learning taking place and students, most of whom are pastors and church leaders grow. May the Almighty God bless Bridge World and expand her tents not forgetting her founders, Dr. and Mrs. James Jongdo Lee.

Pastor Jared K. R. Bosire, Lecturer

Towards a kind and successful future

Teaching at Bridgeworld College for me has been a treasure from God.

The moment you are within its compound, you feel comfortable and accepted.

The service to all people is equally balanced and the management serves people with passion.

During my time at Bridgeworld, I have lectured both in the Theology and Social Sciences departments and I have realized that the core aspect of this college is adding value. Value is given and added to students, teaching staff, administrative and social workers. Human resource is very valuable and the Bible does recognize this in all its writings. Moses, as recorded in Hebrews chapter 11:26 was willing to give up everything for the sake of human resource. "He regarded disgrace for the sake of Christ as of greater value than the treasures of Egypt, because he was looking ahead to his reward." Good human resource management results to greater productivity.

I wish to encourage the youth and other age groups to enroll at Bridgeworld College because it is student friendly and it offers competitive and market driven programs. I am happy serving in this great institution and I encourage the management, staff and the student body to continue putting more efforts in transforming the lives of people in communities and in the Church at large.

Rev. Sarah Okwemba, Lecturer Social Science

~ The Students ~

Bridgeworld College a splendid place for personal transformation.

The student community at Bridgeworld College is an amazing blend which gives students a taste of different cultures from different countries within Africa. This is due to the fact that the student community comprises of people from countries like Cuba, Eritrea, Ethiopia, south Sudan, and different parts of East Africa. This is a clear indication that different perceptions have been brought together because each individual is unique in their character. As a matter of fact we cannot overlook the fact that the environment where one is brought up influences his/her perceptions. The presence of different cultures in the college makes one to be cautious of the small things that he/she does or says because one is not sure of how it will be perceived by the other person. However, this does not mean that there are no occasions where people differ in one way or another. But the differences only make us stronger and not divide us – 'Unity in diversity.' We are also guided by the universal principles from the word of God which go beyond culture and the all sufficiency of the grace of God. The grace of God enables us to bear with each other and forgive each other's shortcomings. We recognize each other based on the word of God and not from our backgrounds and cultures

This kind of a scenario makes Bridgeworld College a splendid place to be, for personal transformation in order to transform the world.

Yusuf Abaganda, Degree in Theology Student

I thank God for the wonderful time I have had at Bridgeworld College. Together with my colleagues at the Community Development Program, I bless the Lord for the great learning experience at the college and the dedicated team of staff members who have tirelessly assisted us throughout our study.

It began in 2013 when I joined this college without hope on further study. However by the grace of God I found myself in this very conducive learning environment; in the outskirts of Nairobi CBD, with excellently ventilated rooms for study, with welcoming and caring staff, very qualified lecturers, not to mention the friendly theology and Social Sciences department students.

Bridge World College has qualified masters and PhDs lecturers who provide quality and quantity education to the students.

It has a well stocked library with books for addition knowledge and skills on research study apart from lectures experience, fees are affordable, scholarships are available to the needy students, and you can access working scholarship.

Equipped with knowledge and skills to face the world and also help my community to solve problem that could arise.

My reason to study social work and community development at this college is because of their mission (be transformed to transform the world) which encourages me that communities need change agents and I will be the one to do so after being changed. I have been equipped with knowledge and skills to face the rough world and also help my community to solve problems that could arise.

Bridge World College is one of the institutions that produces quality leaders who can work with communities by building them spiritually, economically, socially and physically.

By praying, interacting and socializing with people as I do with staff, lecturers, theologians and my fellow students, I see my ambition in life revived. Thank you all and be bless.

Biblical Heavenly Home - Building New Kingdom Family Life

Heavenly life here on earth. I finally gathered and organized all my 40 years of Kingdom family life into teaching materials. This is not mere teaching, but it has been bitter life work to let God's truth replace the worldly flesh-driven lifestyle within me.

Through the storm of sins, my Lord has shown me how I sin and that I am totally depraved like the people I used to judge.

God has humbled me to show that Lord Jesus has elected me unconditionally despite the fact that I'm an impossible sinner.

I notice how some people never accept Jesus as their Savior regardless of how grace is upon them (limited atonement).

Many people have rejected the blessings, but I have received this amazing, irresistible grace. With this firm assurance, up until now I have been following my Lord and my King Jesus and will persevere the road of the Saint with a delightful heart . (TULIP)

As our whole body is formed from one cell, the home is the basic cell for all human society. God ordained a healthy home as His gift to each one of us. It is His work station through which He represents His heavenly kingdom on earth. Let us examine our hearts and lifestyles through the big picture and the details. Let's recover any of God's precious gifts that we've lost and begin to cultivate them. God designed these gifts to reach into every corner of our lives.

….Put off your old self, which is being corrupted by its deceitful desire; to be made new in the attitude of your minds … Put on the new self, created to be like God in true righteousness and holiness." (Eph 4:22, 23)

Mrs. Helen Kang, Visiting Lecturer

~Mission Field ~

Bright Angels Academy is dealing with pupils holistically. The school is mission oriented through which the "Agape" love is communicated to our pupils. Before Bright Angels Academy was started, many children in Ukunda could not be admitted in schools due to their parent's (guardian's) inability to cater for the school fees. Education had been left to a few children from economically stable families.

There are many schools in Ukunda, but Bright Angels Academy is a unique school. Many of our pupils come from poverty stricken families, some who had totally lost hope of getting education due to their poverty stricken circumstances. They have now regained hope. The only source of inspiration we have is to see these vulnerable children getting education just like any other child in Kenya.

We thank God for Bright Angels Academy which now has become the rescue Centre for many of them.

Our school is not only giving education to vulnerable children, but is also a tool of impacting the lives of our children with the gospel of Jesus Christ. This is because our school is founded on Christian values.

> "Our greatest aim is to communicate and demonstrate the love of Christ to both our children and the entire Islamic community".

Our greatest aim is to communicate and demonstrate the love of Christ to both our children and the entire Islamic community in Mombasa county.

The only challenge that we have been trying to overcome is the challenge of feeding. We are trusting God that through the prayers of the saints and their love gifts we shall be able to overcome this Challenge. May the lord bless you as you stand with us as a crown of witness in this generation. We hope to educate a large number of students as the Lord gives us grace.

Our goal is not only to offer intellectual development, much more to enhance development among our pupils. Giving of education to our children is not the end but just the means to the end.

May God bless Bright Angels Academy.

Pastor James Musyimi,
Director of Bright Angels Academy

Meru Extension Campus Graduation

The month of May has become an overwhelming one to the management and staff of Bridgeworld College in Meru. Last year we managed to confer certificates in theology to about 16 students and this year we conferred certificates to 32 students at the same month. The two graduation ceremonies have been organized by brother Josphat Njeru and Patrick Mutugi. The two are running a certificate program in theology in our Meru campus at Nkubu, Meru County.

Members from Bridgeworld College main campus in Karen consisting of Dr. Canon Mwaura, Rev. Lee, Rev. Gichohi and Rev. Muchiri travelled to be with us for the graduation on 24th of May, 2014. The team was happy to conduct the ceremony in the presence of esteemed community dwellers, political leaders, graduates, and professors, not to mention the many friends and relatives of the graduands who were in attendance. In 2013, the Member of Parliament for Imenti Hon. Kathuri graced our graduation ceremony and this year the assistant deputy commissioner, Mr. Ndegwa was our guest.

Bridgeworld College is expanding the training grounds to Chogoria, Kiirwa, Kaare, and Isiolo. We are broadening our network as we look forward to transforming the society to hasten the second coming of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Pastor Josephat Njeru, Coordinator of Meru Extension Program

From your local church to the harvest field (Gwenzeni- Rabai Mission)

To complement the evangelistic mission, Bridgeworld College students organize mission trips to various unreached people groups during their holidays to spread the good news of Jesus Christ according to the Great Commission in Matthew 28: 16-20. So far the students have managed to go to Kisii and this time it was taken to the coast despite the challenge of rivers flooding and insecurity alarms of Alshaabab terror attacks. Bridgeworld College students and International Leadership Institute National alumni organized and facilitated Ngwezeni-Rabai Regional conference training from 4th to 7th of December 2013 followed by door to door evangelism.
Delegates were drawn from various churches in Rabai, Kilifi County to discuss topics on Evangelism, Ministry and Biblical leadership. About 57 people attended the conference and were issued with certificates. Many testimonies were given in response to various topics shared.

Cultural day- Celebrating our diversity, Cultivating the culture of Christ

Culture is a strong part of people's lives; it is a bond that ties the people of a region or community together and influencing their lifestyle. Christianity in itself is culture, with certain forms of moral behaviour which are regarded as typically or essentially Christian.
Bridgeworld College being a multinational and multicultural society with brethren from South Korea, South Sudan, Ethiopia, Eritrea, Democratic Republic of Congo, Uganda, Cuba and Kenya itself appreciates culture as vital part as the body of Christ. On the 5th of May, we celebrated culture through presentation of different foods, clothing and other forms of art.
Even though we exist in diversity, we bear in mind as a Christian college that Christ came to reconcile all things, individuals and culture back to Himself (2 Cor. 5:18-20) and establishing a 'people.' As we are called into the ministry, we seize to exist in our different cocoon and become Christ followers as Christians; a community that is Christ like, seeing each other as brothers in Christ.

~ Karibu Kenya~ (Welcome)

Hello!!

My name is Wooyoung Choi. I came to Bridgeworld College, Karen, Nairobi Kenya as a missionary with passion to teach. The prayer points that I have had for this ministry are these:
First, the Holy Spirit would teach the students through me.
Since the Holy Spirit is the original author of the Bible, it should be the same Spirit who would help me and the students to understand the Bible. All of us will grow by teaching and by learning.
Second, God would raise men and women for the Gospel of Jesus Christ to become spiritual leaders among nations and people. Since the students studying at the College are from different nations and tribes, they will be equipped to be channels through which God would use to proclaim Jesus and to expand the Kingdom of God in Kenya and beyond. The students will be equipped thoroughly to do God's works which God prepared in advance for them to do.
Third, God would continue to work through the students to bring spiritual revival in African continent in future. True revival can never come through any other means except through the truth that the Gospel proclaims Jesus' death and resurrection. The students will be ready to take this truth out to the place where God puts them so that through them God would bring true revival into African countries. May the Lord bless you for His Kingdom.
